Base Pay

Approach

How are base pay decisions made?

Rewards decisions are made taking into consideration business performance, affordability (which is linked to the profitability of our business), and market conditions. In December, we did some stay-at-level (base pay) increases-focused on key growth areas and based on market conditions. In June, we have additional stay-at-level increases targeting key growth areas where we can invest now based on market conditions.

Bonus and equity decisions for those eligible will continue to be made in the December cycle. We will continue to evaluate the opportunity for base pay increases considering business performance, affordability and market conditions then.
